1. This Staff has just completed a detailed review and revision of the object and subobject classifications for classifying allotment expenditures by both headquarters and field installations. Since these revised classifications affect expenditures made since 1 July 1956, it is planned, in the interests of keeping the adjustment of field records to the minimum, to send the list of revised classifications to field stations operating under Class A accounting procedures by means of a book dispatch signed by the Comptroller, with the concurrences of area divisions. Immediately after the book dispatch has been sent to the field, the proposed revision of [REDACTED] "Accounting Classification of Disbursements", which will be recommended for issuance as [REDACTED] will be processed at headquarters under established procedures for concurrences, authentication and release.
